

Promo-LEX Organized a Public Lesson for the Officers from the Department of Penitentiary Institutions

Today, Promo-LEX Association conducted a public lesson for the officers from the Department of Penitentiary Institutions on the use of physical force, special means and firearms.

The Promo-LEX lawyer, Vadim Vieru, discussed about the international and national frameworks on the limits of physical force use and special means. Also, together with the participants, he identified the loopholes of the institutional framework and discussed about a number of case studies on human rights violation.

At the same time, the Promo-LEX representative attended today a working meeting with Aureliu SUHAN, the Acting Director of the Department of Penitentiary Institutions, and other DPI employees. The meeting aimed to discuss the opportunity of a collaboration agreement between Promo-LEX Association and the Department of Penitentiary Institutions in order to train the staff from the penitentiary system in the use of physical force, special means and firearms.
