

NGOs in Transnistria have plenty of work. (video)

Promo-LEX launches the second video report on human rights in the Transnistrian region – non-governmental organizations in Transnistria have plenty of work, a story about the work and problems faced by human rights organizations on the left bank of the Dniester.

NGOs protecting and promoting human rights enjoy a greater degree of trust among the public than other socio-political organisations in Transnistria. For ordinary citizens NGOs represent virtually the last resort they can call in an attempt to defend their rights, but for the illegal Tiraspol authorities NGOs are a danger, a danger so great that non-governmental organizations are labeled simply as “beggars” for funds.

The report was made within a Promo-LEX project, with financial support from the National Endowment for Democracy.

The opinions expressed in this report do not necessarily reflect those of the donors.
